“New systems - but will it be all systems go?”

A Major One-Day Conference from Money Advice Scotland and IRRV Scotland

The Teacher Building, St Enoch Square, Glasgow
Friday 3rd November 2017

Money Advice Scotland and the IRRV in Scotland are delighted to announce this major one-day Conference taking place in Glasgow on Friday 3rd November 2017.

This Conference is the joint event of the year for Money Advice Scotland and IRRV Scotland, bringing together practitioners, managers, policy makers from the field of revenues, money advice, credit and debt collection.

This year's conference will focus on the key issues facing money advice, benefits provision and welfare rights at a time of significant change and challenge. Regulation means change and a new way of thinking, which brings its own challenges. The Conference will also look at good practice, and we how we can learn from each other.

This conference is “a must” as it will focus on the outcome of the consultation on the Standard Financial Statement, minimum income standards, a regulatory update, the review of advice services in Scotland, an update on the devolution of social security, corporate debt recovery and a welfare reform and Universal Credit rollout update.

Our conference speakers are all experts in their field and drawn from government, voluntary, private, and statutory sectors. We are certain there will be plenty food for thought. Don't miss out - be there!

The programme includes :

- The outcome of consultation on the Standard Financial Statement (SFS) and update on the regulatory landscape in Scotland - Richard Dennis, Accountant in Bankruptcy - keynote speaker
- Minimum income standards - David Hilferty, Executive Officer (Policy and Support), Money Advice Scotland
- Regulatory update from the Financial Conduct Authority

- Welfare Reform and Universal Credit update - The latest update on welfare reform The practical arrangements of Universal Credit rollout on the ground. Details of future roll-out. The key issues for money advisers and revenues teams.
- Devolved social security - what are the impacts?
- Corporate Debt Recovery - a fresh approach? - The Improvement Service
- An update on the review of advice services in Scotland
- “Are the sectors ready for change?” - Yvonne MacDermid OBE, Chief Executive, Money Advice Scotland

Please note that conference fees are particularly good value for money, with the delegate fee including attendance at the Conference, lunch, all refreshments and all Conference documentation. The Conference starts at 10am (registration from 9.30am) and ends around 4pm.

As places are limited, early booking is recommended. Please complete the booking form overleaf (one per delegate please) and fax, e-mail or post it to IRRV Scotland.

The IRRV regrets that, under normal circumstances, delegate fees cannot be refunded. However, delegate substitutions may be made at no cost at any time prior to the Conference, subject to these being notified to the Institute.

Who should attend?

This is a key event in Scotland for all money advisers and revenues practitioners with an interest in ensuring the provision of quality money advice and the effective management of the Revenues Service. The Conference is, in particular, aimed at:

- Money Advisers from throughout Scotland
- Revenues Managers, and other senior revenues staff, including Team Leaders
- Members of Council Tax, NDR and Sundry Debt Collection Teams
- Other finance department staff with an interest in current issues in Revenues Recovery
- Sheriff Officers, Solicitors, Credit Unions and Insolvency Practitioners
